

Accounting Club

The Accounting Club is organized to bring together students interested in the Accounting Profession in a social and academic atmosphere, and is designed to aid their personal and professional development. We want to create, develop and promote an interest in Accounting as a profession to other students and the public. We also to provide the opportunity to affiliate with other professional organizations including the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants. We are funded by Student Organization of Kean University, and all majors are welcome to join.
