GET READY TO WRITE.

Writer's Boot Camp (ENG5030) is a 3 graduate credit, 5-week intensive summer writing course presented through the Kean M.A. English Writing Program's "Special Topics in Composition Theory" course series.

Students will "fast-draft" a manuscript project of choice--writing intensively and consistently while discussing selected writing topics and strategies and receiving writing community support. Exercises throughout the seminar will help keep students motivated and writing towards weekly goals while gaining authorial confidence.

The objective is to finish the course with a fully completed draft of a manuscript.
